

Growing great companies takes more than money and Maryland's entrepreneurs repeatedly express the need for assistance in certain very specific areas. To help meet that need, TEDCO has partnered with a series of consultants that have current, relevant experience in one or more of these specific areas.

This curated group of Network Advisors brings its broad and diversified depth of experience to address the unique needs of Maryland's start-up companies – the entire effort is dedicated to helping the State's technology-based entrepreneurs reach their full potential.
